

Maya Lin- Grand Rapids Park (1)

One of her works of art was the Grand Rapids park project, which consists of an ice skating rink. When she first took the job she did not know that the city would make her include a few buildings in the park as well, so she had to act as an architect while building the bathrooms and lights. One of the neat things about the park is on the ice rink she built in lights to make it look like the stars in the sky.
