

The Gamble House by Greene & Greene

This is the Gamble house designed by brother architects Greene & Greene. The house definitely has a luxurious feel to it. It is known as one of the "ultimate bungalows." one of the cool exterior features of this house is the slow arching roofs. The staircase up to the front door gives a real commanding feature of the house.

One of the cool interior features I found was the staircase. I have most definitely never seen a staircase with this design but it is definitely really cool. Based on the article on the house Grene & Greene are known for having interesting designs with some cool twists.
