

The Oklahoma Memorial Union

The Memorial Union is the place for action. It reminds me of a bee hive. Everyone is busy doing something. They are eating, visiting friends, studying, etc. It's busy from sunrise to sunset. Everyone seems to have a purpose and are working to get something done.

Personally, I'm not a big fan of crowded, busy places. Which is why I only go there whenever I need to do something. However, the Union never ceases to amaze me. It is a great site for people watching, and seeing everyone go about their life.

The exterior of the building is the well known Cherokee Gothic that is so prevalent around campus. It's bold and almost intimidating.
